Hi Dan,

Welcome back. I hope you enjoyed your vacation.

Thanks for the response. The needles have been disposed of. I'm looking forward to seeing you next week, as well. We're trying to move the meeting to the following Thursday, but will make it work for Aug. 6th, if need be.

Where will this meeting take place?

Beth,

Thank you for sending this to us, although I certainly understand you and your employees' concern. I am coping your new Senior Lead Officer, Paul Jordan, with LAPD. Officer Jordan has worked in Hollywood Division for many years and was previously SLO for a different area.

Officer Jordan, could you please see Beth's email below? Beth runs World of Wonder at Hollywood/Cherokee. Have you gotten a chance to meet her yet?

Beth, is the cup with the needles still there? We can request it be cleaned up.

Beth, we're looking forward to seeing you next week when we sit down with the Councilmember.

Sincerely,

Kerry,

One of our employees sent me this picture of a cup of hypodermic needles, which was right by our entry way on Cherokee this morning.

With the Musso parking lot murder, the assault last Friday on our editor, and now this, our employees are understandably upset. I honestly don't know what to say to them. This is having a negative impact on our ability to attract good employees.

When I received this picture I was in the middle of reading Leron Gubler's lovely email about the millennials living in Hollywood, and the hope that this will drive creative businesses to the area. The reality of assaults and dirty needles don't quite fit into that picture.

I know there's not much to be done, but I want everyone to know the poor quality of life all of us at World of Wonder are dealing with.
